ATHENS CLAIMS ITALIANS IN FULL RETREAT

Report Italian Defense Lines Have Collapsed

Athens Report Says Desperate Italian Efforts Fail To Halt Greeks

GREEKS ADVANCE DESPITE DEEP SNOW

Claim Italians Are In Flight On All Fronts In Albania

By A. E. ANGELOPOULOS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Dec. 3.—All Italian defense lines in Albania have collapsed completely and desperate Fascist efforts to consolidate new positions further north have failed to check the Greek advance, according to latest reports from the battle zone today.

Snowstorms and cloudy weather were said to have prevented continued aerial strafing of the retreating Italians by British and Greek planes.

Advance In Snow

It was indicated, however, that the Greek ground forces were advancing despite five feet of snow in the direction of Elbasan while the Italians on the northern sector kept shelling Pogradec, which they abandoned several days ago to the bayonet-wielding Greeks.

On all fronts, dispatches to Athens claimed, the Italians are in flight—with fierce Greeks in hot pursuit.

The official high command communique stated:

"On the left wing of the front our troops advanced and brought under fire a road leading from the port of Santi Quaranta to Argyrocastro. Around Premeti our forces occupied new positions.

Prisoners Taken

"A considerable number of prisoners were captured as well as all sorts of material, including four guns.

"On Mt. Ostravitza our successful attack dispersed enemy contingents and we took many prisoners, both officers and men.

"North of Pogradec the battle continues favorably."

The Italians, it was claimed, made

Pope Pius XII Appeals For Christmas Truce

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 3.—Once again raising his voice against Europe's warfare, Pope Pius XII appealed to the belligerents today for a Christmas truce.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: British Prime Minister Winston Churchill recently announced in the house of commons that he would turn down suggestions for a truce over the Christmastide.)

The Pontiff expressed hope that the belligerents, either spontaneously or through a mutual accord, would agree to a Christmas truce.

Vatican circles expressed the opinion the Pope's plea indicated he had carried out diplomatic demarches in behalf of the truce suggestion.

At the same time, the Pope authorized celebration of the regular Christmas midnight mass on the afternoon before Christmas in belligerent nations or other countries where a nightly black-out is enforced.

Iron Guard "Green Shirts" Are Banned

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST, Dec. 3.—Premier Gen. Ion Antonescu's hard-pressed government, striving to stamp out Iron Guard terrorism, issued a decree today dissolving the green-shirted police force of the Iron Guard organization.

The decree was issued on grounds that these police are no longer needed since the Iron Guard government is now in complete control of the state.

Meanwhile, it is reported, Antonescu rejected pleas of high army officers that he declare a military dictatorship to restore order in Rumania.

Antonescu was represented as fearful such an action would create civil warfare.

Prohibits Green Shirts

The latest decree also prohibited the wearing of green shirts, the emblem of the Iron Guard, until the organization has "purified" itself by dismissing many members who have entered the movement during the past three months.

For the time being the wearing of

Rural Home Is Swept By Blaze

Eleven-Room Structure Near New Bedford Destroyed By Fire Monday Night

Fire, which is believed to have started from an overheated furnace, destroyed an 11 room structure, one mile north of New Bedford on the West Middlesex road, owned and occupied by Lester Moore, at 9 o'clock Monday night. A loss of around $5,000 was sustained partly covered by insurance.

The home had just been newly remodeled, it was stated, Mr. Moore having spent a considerable sum of money in repairs during the summer and fall.

The blaze started just over the furnace in the floor of the home, and New Bedford volunteer firemen answered the alarm, fighting the blaze with hand extinguishers.

In the meantime, calls for help were sent to New Wilmington and New Castle, but because of the bad condition of the highways, it was deemed inadvisable to send assistance so far. The New Bedford men had the blaze almost under control but it finally got away from them and the home burned to the ground. Most of the furniture on the first floor was saved, it was stated.

Two Families Made Homeless

Midnight Blaze In South New Castle Borough Destroys Double Frame Home

TOWNSHIP FIREMEN PREVENT SPREAD

Two families were driven from their home, a double frame house in South New Castle Boro at midnight last night, when fire believed to have started from a defective chimney completely destroyed the structure. The families of Mrs. Belle Kirkwood and several children, and Steve Zepka, wife and daughter, were made homeless by the fire. Very little of their household goods was saved.

The fire seemed to break out near the chimney between the first and second floors. Calls for assistance were sent to the New Castle and Shenango township fire departments, but aid could not be given by the local department because of the icy condition of the roads up over the hill into the borough. Shenango township firemen went to the scene, and while they were unable to do anything towards extinguishing the blaze in the Kirkwood and Zepka home, they prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining properties.

The house stood at the corner of South Jefferson street and Treser avenue, several blocks outside the city limits.

Neighbors took care of the stricken families last night. Mr. Zepka, it is stated, was away on a deer hunt when the fire broke out, only his wife and daughter being at home.

The loss to the house and contents will approximate around $4,000, and is believed to be only partly covered by insurance.

ABOARD PRESIDENTAL SPECIAL, En Route To Miami, Fla., Dec. 3—President Roosevelt approached Miami today to embark on a cruise through West Indies and Caribbean waters that will enable him to ascertain at first hand what progress has been made in perfecting an adequate defense of the Panama Canal, the southern coastline of the United States and Central America.

President Roosevelt promised to lift some of the veil of mystery shortly before he boards the cruiser upon which he has searched out problems of two ocean defense in series of cruises over the past three years.

Frigid Wave Moving On District From West

(International News Service)

A frigid wave from the midwest enveloped Pennsylvania today, bringing snow flurries, icy streets and bitter blasts of cold wind that forced the mercury down to temperatures ranging from 10 above in the Pittsburgh area to a comparatively warmer 26 above in the Philadelphia region.

Weather bureaus in Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Philadelphia predicted it would be "much colder" tonight and tomorrow as the freezing wave moved eastward. In Chicago this morning, the Pittsburgh weather bureau said, it was one below.

Coldest point in the Pittsburgh area was the county airport where a reading of 10 above was made at 6 a. m. In the downtown area, it was four degrees warmer. Harrisburg reported it was 22 above there, and Philadelphia's low was 26 above.

The Pittsburgh weather bureau said tonight's low would be close to the zero mark.

More snow flurries were predicted for most sections of the state.

Diplomatic Tangle Over Ship Halting Seen As Probable

(International News Service)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Dec. 3—A diplomatic tangle between Brazil and Great Britain appeared likely today as a result of claims that a British naval cruiser halted the 4,978-ton Brazilian steamer Itape, 18 miles off Santhome Cap, seizing 22 German passengers as prisoners of war.

It was reported the captain of the Itape protested against the British action on grounds that his ship was within the territorial limits stipulated by the Havana convention when the British vessel halted the Itape.

The commander of the cruiser, it was reported, rejected the protest, stating he recognized only the peace-time three-mile territorial zone.

Work Started On Christmas Lighting Here

Decorations Are Being Put In Place In Business District

Work of putting the wiring in place for the Christmas lighting of the downtown business section has been started, and is expected to be completed this week. Chairman John O. Huston of the Retail Merchants association stated today. The lights will probably be turned on by the end of the week.

The committee in charge of the arrangements ran into several difficulties, which have been finally ironed out. It was found that approximately 3,500 feet of wiring had been lost during the past year, necessitating a change in the plans for this year's decorations.

Instead of stringing the lights across the streets in the downtown section, the lights will be strung across each of the intersections in the main business section, and lighted Christmas trees will be placed at each of the four corners of the intersections.

Raiding Planes And U-Boats In Joint Attack On Convoy From U. S.

BELIEVE AT LEAST 11 SHIPS ARE LOST

Latest Ship Attacked Was About 225 Miles West Of Ireland

(International News Service)

The toll of ships attacked and torpedoed or bombed by German aerial and U-boat raiders mounted today as still another British vessel reported itself under aerial assault.

The latest ship to send out distress signals was the 571-ton steamer Salvonia, operated by the British Overseas Towage and Salvage Co. Ltd. The vessel said it was being attacked by a plane at 10:47 a. m. GMT roughly 300 miles off the west coast of Ireland.

It was believed that the little ship, a salvage steamer, was seeking to help other disabled vessels when attacked by the Nazi plane.

Meanwhile, a German raidio announcement claimed that Nazi submarines had sunk 15 convoys merchant vessels and the 17,000-ton British auxiliary cruiser Caledonia in the Atlantic off Ireland.

In addition, the Berlin radio said, it was believed two other merchantmen were so badly damaged that they were believd lost.

The toll of ships attacked and sunk by German raiders in the past 24 hours was believed to number at least 11, on the basis of distress messages sent out by radio.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3—The death toll of hunters killed in Pennsylvania's deer season was increased to 11 today as an estimated 250,000 huntsmen continued their drive through field and forest in clear, cold weather.

Oh to be a coal man when mercury is down, and temperatures are in the dumps and wind storms blast the town, when icy fingers grip the throat, and wintry blizzards roar, it's then the coal man does his stuff, the weather's forty four.

British Will Have To "Live Harder"

New Restrictions On Food Rations

Importations Of Some Foods To Be Curtailed, Says New Order

SHIPPING LOSSES BECOME HEAVIER

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Possibly for the first time in 15 months of war, the British public as a whole began to become acutely aware today that the "easy-going" stage of the conflict is at an end.

Henceforth, Britons realized, they will have to "live harder" if the victory is to be theirs.

A number of new developments brought this sharply home to the nation, chief of which were:

1—Announcement of further food restrictions by Lord Woolton, food minister, who said rations of meat and bacon will be reduced and importations of other foods curtailed.

2—The latest British admiralty announcement of increased shipping losses.

3—German claims of further sinkings of colossal shipping tonnages in the Atlantic Ocean.

All these served to shake up the British public as nothing before had succeeded in doing. Everywhere conviction was expressed that a life-and-death struggle is to be fought out this winter on the grey wastes of the Atlantic.

The most important Italian retreat occurred on the left wing of the front, where a deep Greek penetration forced the Italians to retire from their positions before Delvino and where the Greeks pushed forward so far that they outflanked the Albanian port of Santi Quaranta by a considerable distance.

IRON GUARD "GREEN SHIRTS" ARE BANNED

green shirts will be limited merely to special festivities and to Iron Guard officials who hold public office.

The Rumanian premier likewise turned down an army request that the Iron Guard be completely disarmed. Contending that any such action might lead to open rebellion, Antonescu sought to settle the nation's internal problems through mediation with party leaders.

Meanwhile police pressed an investigation into a mysterious fire which last night swept through the propaganda ministry, destroying great quantities of official documents. Although a government announcement stated that the blaze was started by an explosion among film archives, unconfirmed reports circulated that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Disarm Civilians

Bucharest, Dec. 3.—In a drastic move to end the Iron Guard reign of terror, the Rumanian government today ordered the country's entire civilian population disarmed.

In an order issued by the ministry of defense, all civilians were ordered to surrender all their arms and munitions within the next three days or face imprisonment.

The order to disarm also applied to the Iron Guard Legionnaires. Vice Premier Horia Sima, who is also leader of the Iron Guard organization, issued a special order to the legionnaires to surrender their arms or face expulsion from the party.

Many high explosive and hundreds of incendiary bombs were dropped indiscriminately, it was claimed, blasting a number of buildings, including a children's hospital, churches and houses.

The working class section of the town suffered the brunt of the attack and it was feared many victims were still buried in the debris.

Prompt action by fire fighters prevented serious conflagrations.

Breaking a silence of many months, the 54-year-old leader of the Chinese army, and dictator of China, warned that the spread of Japanese power must be stopped before it becomes a "boundless curse in the Pacific."

EDITORIAL BY GOVERNOR JAMES

ALL citizens have an opportunity to aid in combatting the insidious disease of tuberculosis through buying and using Christmas Seals according to a statement made today by Governor Arthur H. James concerning the 1940 Seals.

"Once again the time has come to remind Pennsylvanians of the annual sale of Christmas Seals," observed the Governor.

"Every citizen of the Keystone State knows what the Christmas Seals are for and the work that they do toward the prevention and eradication of tuberculosis.

"The purchase and use of Christmas Seals is every citizen's means of helping to carry on this vital work and contributing a small share toward better health by helping others less fortunate."

WELCOME, DECEMBER!

Most persons are glad to see December, although it is customarily regarded as the first month of winter. The month brings its own claims upon popular favor and they are even more important than those offered by May and June, by October and November.

In the wake of December comes more rigorous weather, which brings out healthy powers of resistance and, with its starry nights and snow, and frozen ponds, provides settings for the delight of youth, always an important consideration.

Its early darkness lengthens the time which may be devoted to self-culture, long pleasant evenings for work and study and also for play. And the more introspective of mortals are given greater opportunities to ponder what the rest of the year has been and has meant, also the state of the nation, the trend of the times, the progress of alien ideologies and what it means in the ultimate scheme of things.

But, best of all, December brings Christmas, a boon to old and young and one which sustains the hope that the troubled old world will right itself one of these bright, sweet days and that life will be happier for all, including the millions living in afflicted lands, to whose miseries Americans cannot be insensitive without forfeiting their claim to classification as a civilized nation.

DER FUEHRER GRABS LORRAINE

The impotence of the Nazi-controlled Vichy Government has been brutally signalized by the Germans in their matter-of-fact announcement of the annexation of Lorraine.

The announcement is made by Gauleiter Buerckel. Lorraine is to be joined with the Saar as the Nazi province of Westmark and to become German inhabited "forever." The bad news for France as to what is to become of Alsace hasn't been given out yet. But there is little doubt that the Nazis will grab that province, as the German Empire did in 1870.

It is not at all surprising that the Reich should take over these areas. The thing was inherent in the French collapse, regardless of alleged specifications of their armistice with Hitler which theoretically leave such questions for an eventual peace pact.

But it does seem surprising that the Nazi authorities have deliberately put the Petain-Laval Government in an impossible light before the French people, particularly the people of the French colonies, at this time.

That phase of the matter is highlighted by Petain himself, for coincident with Buerckel's proclamation the aged Marshal, in a radio address, appealed to the French people to take to their hearts and assist as much as possible the 70,000 French-speaking Lorrainers who have been expelled by Buerckel and his followers.

That ruthless expulsion alone would seem enough to cause the average Frenchman in or outside of the Vichy governed area to grit his teeth with hatred of the Nazi conquerors. At any rate the whole situation exhibits the policy of the Vichy regime as nothing more or less than abject and silent submission to anything the conquerors propose to do.

BRITAIN'S AIR EXPERIENCE

In 1925 the gallant and provocative Brig. Gen. William Mitchell asserted that the United States War Department was "quite incapable of creating, handling or administering air power in an efficient manner." For this and other statements in the same sense he was court-martialed. President Coolidge appointed a special board to investigate General Mitchell's charges, to determine whether, as Mitchell demanded, an independent air corps should be established. The board, after ten months of study, denied the value of an independent air establishment. There is none in the United States.

But in Britain the R. A. F. has been, to all practical intent, an independent organization with an air marshal at its head. Now from London comes word of sweeping changes. A new fighter chief is named, together with five other leaders, all but one under the age of fifty. The aim is to achieve unified air and land forces to fend off possible invasion.

The new British arrangement is one that places the R. A. F. in active cooperation with, if not subordinate to, the army. A dispatch puts it thus: "Creation of the command underlies one of the great lessons of this war—the interdependence of the army, the navy and the air force and the necessity of the army and navy to have specially trained air striking forces under their control."

"Under their control"—that is the phrase that goes to the crux of the issue. An independent air force, such as General Mitchell advocated, would be under no control except that of a Cabinet member, who would be at its head.

England's present device, which puts the R. A. F. in intimate cooperation with the army, is designed to mobilize the full striking force of the British army and air arm against the German foe. The official statement put it that the new command will "organize, experiment and train in all forms of cooperation." Through experiment and cooperation progress can alone be achieved. Certainly the British effort, made under war conditions, will be of enormous interest to this government.

The enemies of democracy added to their record for cruelty when they unloaded on the world a word like totalitarianism.

As the Greek beats back the Italian in those mountains he seems to remember that his ancestors ensconced the old gods on Olympus.

After the experience of London and Berlin, hereafter when a new country is formed there probably will not be much of a scramble among towns to be capital.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TOYS TEACH TOT TO CREATE

The average child from the time he begins to walk till he nears the teens, must be doing something practically every moment he's awake. Have you ever seen a child of three or eight just loll and do nothing for five minutes at a stretch? He is constantly on the move with his feet and hands, feet only, or hands only, or is looking, examining, reading, or is mentally engaged in some other way. Even when the child of three or four is spinning yarns of fancy aloud his whole body may be in action.

I think you will agree with me that, except for out-of-door play, the average tot uses his feet too much and his hands and head too little. Possibilities for education are with the hands and head more than with the feet, certainly indoors. Furthermore, the more the child uses his hands and head and the less he uses his feet, the less, as a rule, he annoys the others in the house; the less likely, indeed, he is to get into trouble anywhere.

Teach Child To Help

Many a mother writes me of the tot who follows her about the house all day but won't play with his toys. Even then, if this mother answers all the youngster's questions and converses freely with him, both she and the child may be profitably engaged. Some such children are provided with a toy broom, sweeper, dust pan and the like, so they can "help mother." However, some mothers, being pressed for time, find their nerves tightening with a toddler always at their heels. They can reduce their problem by providing more and better things for the tot to amuse himself with and by showing interest in his crudest creations with objects and tools.

Thanks to the modern kindergarten and primary teacher, children learn at school to create with their hands and continue this at home. How fortunate the child who learns years earlier at home to build, draw, paint, paste, cut, saw, hammer. See how much happier he will be at home and how much less trouble to his mother. See also his preparation for later success at school.

Give Toys All Year

Why is it that most parents will wait till Christmas to buy playthings for their children, showering them with so many all at once, but starving them for toys the rest of the year? Why don't they get these necessary means for good education all the year round, one or so at a time?

Let me urge parents, especially of the young child, to buy some toys at once instead of so many at Christmas time. Nearly all the best toys for your child are in the toy stores and departments now and have been there since last Christmas. The same applies to books to read to the baby and young child.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FIT THEM FOR SOMETHING

This ought properly to be called "Read it and Weep."

The American Youth Commission—not to be confused with that band of young red hots known as the American Youth Congress—has just completed a survey which revealed that only about one in every four of the 1,750,000 students who leave schools and colleges each year has any clear idea of what kind of a job he or she should seek.

The astonishingly low average would indicate more than 1,200,000 young people, many of them supposedly well trained and well educated, drift aimlessly into the world each year in search of a living—without any idea of where to do the searching, on what employer's door to knock, in which field of endeavor to seek apprenticeship, or apparently without even knowing what trades and professions want and need apprentices and workers.

This haphazard, happy-go-lucky preparation for a livelihood is a good breeder of despair and disillusionment and poor citizenship, for these ill-equipped students will find no "welcome mats" spread out for them outside the campus gates. Far more than they are doing now, schools must observe the professional and business world for which they are training students. If schools provided, as the commission recommends, "realistic vocational guidance, appropriate vocational preparation and eventual job placement," then education would become successful training for actual work, better citizenship and a happier life. This is what education should be, not simply the pursuit of report cards with high enough grades on them to induce Dad to send an extra allowance.

The nation, proud of its record in the field of progressive education, has already gone far. But progressive means to be "forward-looking." Schools must continue to look forward, to progress toward sounder, more adequate ways of educating youth for a livelihood and good citizenship.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

"I am 30 and have the misfortune to weigh more than 200 pounds. When I was slender I was popular among both men and women. But as you know nobody loves a fat woman."

I pity the soul who contributes this to my confessional but my experience with many women in the same plight is that they have gotten into it through self-indulgence. We all know the member of our crowd who, when the rest of us started out for our daily hike, stuck fast to her arm-chair making one excuse or another for her hatred of physical exertion.

The lack of exercise caused her system to fill up with toxins that make her so languid that exercise seems impossible. Thus is forged a vicious circle resulting in more toxemia, more languor, more fat, more discouragement. Fat women continually lament to me, blaming their obesity on their glands. Sometimes this is true and in such cases, the care of a physician is recommended; but sometimes, it is intemperance in eating, which is also a case requiring a physician's care. I have watch overweight people and noted that they usually drink quantities of milk, pour cream on everything creamable, sugar on everything sugarable. They invariably have a yen for all the white foods that are fattening and an abhorrence for all the green foods that are slenderizing. But again I must reiterate, this is not always the cause of obesity. I should strongly advise a doctor's diagnosis in your particular case, for 200 pounds is too much weight for any woman, and especially for one of your tender years.

Other Readers' Questions Answered

Question: What reply, if any, is necessary when someone to whom I have been introduced and who is taking leave of me says: "I am very pleased to have met you"? Should a man or a woman say this after being introduced?—Bebe.

Answer: When someone you have met is so courteous and thoughtful as to make such a remark, a reply of some sort from you should be forthcoming. To stand by and ignore such a compliment would be rude, indeed. "Thank you" or "I hope we shall meet soon again" are both courteous acknowledgments. Since a woman never "meets" a man, it would be definitely out of place for her to say to him: "I am very pleased to have met you."

Question: I have been led to believe that a man must not ask a girl to dance but that he should ask her partner for such permission.—Martin.

Answer: He really should have the consent of both the girl and her escort. This may be accomplished gracefully by asking the girl, in the presence of her escort, if he may have the next dance. If several couples go to the dance in a group, they usually trade partners after the first dance.

BOSSING

We attended a testimonial dinner at $2 a plate and sat next to a priest. While we were waiting for dinner to be served, the priest told a waiter to get him some water. The waiter mumbled that water wasn't on the list. He indicated that the place to quench one's thirst was at the bar. The priest told the waiter that he'd have water or he would not eat. He got the water.

This led the priest to utter some philosophical observations about the bossing that Americans stand from people whom they hire to serve them.

Next day we noted that Christopher Billopp, writing in the Baltimore Evening Sun, was indignant about the kind of bossing that so infuriated the priest. His subject was "Folks."

"Folks," said Mr. Billopp, "are people who spend their time being asked to

"Listen."
"Step this way, please."
"Be patient for a few minutes."
"Please don't crowd."
"Give me your attention for a moment."
"Move up a little closer."
"Stand back."
"Make a contribution, however small."
"Look this way and hold it."
"Let's have a smile."
"Show your tickets."
"Please stop talking in the back of the hall."
"Pay the man at the door as you go out."
"Take advantage of this wonderful opportunity."
"Give the little girl a hand."
"Take your time."
"Please move over to the next aisle."
"Sit down in front."
"If in favor, raise your hand."
"Don't forget the waitresses."
"Please don't smoke."
"Have your change ready."
"Buy a souvenir program from the gentleman who will now pass among you."
"Remain seated."
"Rise during the singing of the anthem."

"And to perform other annoying, inconvenient, unreasonable and objectionable acts at the request of a noisy but insignificant individual whom the folks, if they were not so docile, long-suffering and obedient, could in one moment of rebellion stampede and crush."

Gave Up Good Salary To Run For Office
Columnist Stewart Does Some Speculating

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—"How's Wendell Willkie to make a living from now until 1944?" politicians are asking.

Considering the annual $75,000 that he received for quite a while from Commonwealth & Southern, it may seem as if he should have saved up, as he went along, enough to last him indefinitely. But everybody who's had any experience with an income knows how inevitably the recipient's expenses keep up with it. He just can't prevent it. I myself recall that, as an $18-a-week cub reporter, I felt richer than ever I have since then, although subsequently I've made a bit more than that. The rule may not apply on into the billionaire classification, but I fancy that it does up to and probably above the $75,000 line. Simply in the course of nature a big stipend's bills are correspondingly higher than a small one's, and it doesn't imply extravagance in the former case, either.

Anyway, Wendell apparently isn't fixed to wag along for four years without a job—not if he's to be a Republican presidential factor in 1944. By going into complete political eclipse I presume he could stay off relief indefinitely, with what he's managed to hang onto out of his annual $75,000. He evidently doesn't propose to go into eclipse, though. His obvious notion's to remain a shining light on the 1944 G. O. P. horizon. That'll call for a sizable wad of money.

At a dinner at Washington's National Press club, some time before the last campaign, I heard Wendell assess himself financially.

Spurns Big Offer

He said he had $30,000 in Commonwealth & Southern stock. He mentioned that he'd bought an Indiana farm occasionally, altogether five or six of them. He referred likewise to an offer he'd had of $150,000 yearly to join a New York law firm, but he didn't accept it, preferring Commonwealth & Southern on half as much. He didn't explain why, but it's immaterial; the $150,000 proposition, having been turned down, isn't a consideration in the argument as to his maintenance during the coming four-year period.

What's he to do? Wendell himself isn't inquiring, but politicians are.

Independently of all else, he must have a comfortable bank account, but the best guess is that it's inadequate to support a four-year presidential candidacy. Ditto the dividends on $30,000 worth of Commonwealth & Southern stock.

It's understood that Commonwealth & Southern would be glad to get him back on the basis of his original $75,000 per annum or even better than that, but his friends oppose it on the ground that it would re-link him with public utilities and completely queer him for 1944, the association handicapped him this year.

Then how about a hook-up with a big law firm?—like the one that wanted him at the $150,000 rate. His friends object again. Their contention is that such a firm once more would identify him with Wall

The Spenders Resist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.

IT is a curious but incontrovertible fact that the two soundest policies for which the President now stands find more support among his political opponents in Washington and in the country than among the more intimate of his Administration aides.

ONE of these is his recently avowed policy of rigid economy on all save defense expenditures; the other is the basic tenet of his foreign policy—to wit that we cannot afford to let Britain lose the war. As for the economy idea it had been consistently and strongly advocated by anti-Administration Democrats as well as Republicans, for a long time. It is one of the fundamental demands of the opposition. Not until a week ago, however, had there come from Mr. Roosevelt any recognition of the necessity of accompanying the vast defense expenditures and heavily increased taxes with a reduction in the ordinary governmental costs.

UNSTINTED help in this direction will be given by anti-New Deal Democrats and Republicans. It is the economic intellectuals of the New Deal who pull back. These are the convinced ardent and original proponents of the spending policy which is basic in the New Deal philosophy. To them the vast pouring out of dollars for defense provides the opportunity for which they have longed—to wit, unlimited Federal spending. It is worth while presenting this point of view and the reasons they oppose economy such as now proposed by the President as definitely bad, a thing which should be resisted to the utmost.

IN the first place, their contention is that with the outpouring of the defense billions the Government, for the first time, is spending on a scale sufficiently large to justify the spending policy and bring full production and prosperity. The trouble heretofore was that Mr. Roosevelt was unwilling to go "all out" on spending. He spent largely for relief and social service, but not in the way and to the extent the new-school financiers wanted. The results were disappointing. Now, with sixteen billions being poured out as rapidly as possible for the manufacture of goods—guns, aircraft, etc., etc.—plus the relief and farm expenditures, the country is getting the real thing and the benefits will follow. The one thing that could block them now would be economy. That is the argument.

ACCORDING to them it is this kind of spending that Mr. Roosevelt should have done years ago. The truth is, they say, Mr. Roosevelt never really did believe wholeheartedly in the spending idea. He resorted to spending to stop deflation and to meet imperative social needs, but not because he genuinely believed in the spending theory. He did not really understand it. If he had he would have spent eight to ten billions of borrowed money in 1934 or 1936 or 1938 instead of much smaller amounts. Until now the New Deal budget has never been anything near enough to meet the specifications of the advocates of spending as the road to prosperity. Now it is and they rejoice.

AS to the question of how high the Federal debt can be safely run up, the answer of the New Deal economists is hazy in the extreme. No definite answer can be given they say, because of the "psychological factors involved." Their theory is that there is no limit to the height of the debt so long as it is owed within the United States. The way one recognized New Deal spokesman expressed it is this: "We pass on to future years a heavier burden of interest, but we also pass on the securities which draw the interest. If our children have to pay interest on $50,000,000,000 or $60,000,000,000 or $70,000,000,000 of Federal debt, they will also receive interest on $50,000,000,000 or $60,000,000,000 or $70,000,000,000 in Government securities. So long as the Government bonds are owned in the United States, we, as a people get back every cent in interest we pay on the Government debt."

IN effect, this is equivalent to saying: "Don't worry about the public debt. It's no burden because we owe it to ourselves." This is the New Deal "party line." It is the only financial argument they have; the only justification of a policy which violates every principle of orthodox financing and disregards every teaching of history. Actually, say the New Dealers, the Federal debt is still light in relation to our productive capacity. That kind of as-

What's What At A Glance

Street, which his management is so anxious to avoid having his name re-associated with.

Many of his well wishers think he ought to retire to one of his Indiana farms, pretending to cultivate the soil, but really devoting himself to writing for newspapers and magazines, to speech making and to numerous tours of the country, stirring up his kind of sentiment.

Others insist that a college presidency is the ideal job for him, also mixed with writing (he's a good writer), oratory and the general concoction of political medicine, like Glenn Frank.

But there's one main difficulty with both these agricultural and college presidential schemes.

Small Remuneration

Willkie, to carry on four years of effective missionary work, needs an exceedingly substantial income. Farming doesn't yield one. College presidents' salaries aren't imposing in comparison with public utility magnates'. Magazine and newspaper writers aren't overly remunerated. Speech making's returns aren't imposing. A lot of it has to be done gratis.

Wendell, in short, can finance himself handsomely as a public utility executive or a Wall Street lawyer, but either of those two jobs would finish him as a future presidential possibility. On the opposite hand, he could provide himself with a fine presidential build-up on a farm or in a college presidency and as a writer and a speech maker. But these are stunts he can't make enough money in.

The choice is one that puzzles his 1944 backers, and perhaps Wendell also.

The Great Game Of Politics

gertion of course is meaningless, and the whole position is unsound to the point of silliness. But the whole business seems crazy. These people believe—or profess to—that after the war, or after the defense program is completed, there will be another big peace crisis—and that that will require another dose of spending to tide us over.

BUT by that time, it is argued, the conservatives will be either softened up or worn out and there will be no real opposition to further large appropriations. By that time no one will bother about debts or deficits. Budget will be an obsolete word and the new economics of spending will be generally accepted or acquiesced in. It sounds like a lesson in Hitler economics and there are those here, who, in their relaxed moments, say that, that is exactly what it is. It will be interesting to see how far the President goes in his present economy drive.

If he does not yield to pressure from the spenders, unquestionably he can make a tremendous reduction. In the past he always has either yielded or tired or been diverted. Instead of expenses being cut they have increased by leaps and bounds. Perhaps he will not weaken this time, because it is so much more clear now to everyone except the New Deal spenders that if some semblance of control over Federal finances is not regained soon it never will be and a general economic collapse will become inevitable.

Lou Salica Is Winner By Kayo

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 3 — Lou Salica was still bantamweight champion today although he had to knock challenger Small Montana to the canvas nine times last night before the referee ended the fight in the third round.

Montana, former flyweight champion of the world, kissed the canvas three times in the first round, four in the second and twice in the third before the ref gave the fight to Salica on a technical knockout.

Motor Deaths Far Exceed Last Year's Number In County

Five More Deaths From Automobile Crashes Reported For Current Year By Coroner Nugent

With five auto fatalities occurring in the county during the month of November, the number of deaths from motor accidents is already five ahead of the number for the entire year of 1939, and there is still the greater part of the month of December to go. The number of auto fatalities at the end of November stood at 27.

November followed close on the heels of August, when six persons died from injuries received in automobile accidents.

Indications point to the number being close to a record for the county if the number of deaths show a proportionate increase during December. There had been a decline in the number of motor traffic deaths following the establishment of the 50-mile per hour speed limit in the state, but the number seems to have increased all over the state this year, motorists apparently disregarding the idea of safety and exceeding the speed limit in many cases.

During the first six months of the year, the records of Coroner T. F. Nugent reveal there were only nine fatalities, but in the succeeding five months, that number has been doubled, bringing the total to date to 27.

This is the season when big time college teams get that 'Bowl Look' in their eyes. Once there was only Pasadena's Rose Bowl—now 'most every section of the country tries to stir up a little extra fracas around the first of the year. NAZIS CLAIM LARGE LOSSES ARE INFLICTED ish steamer W. Hendrik (4,360 tons) torpedoed in latitude 55 north, longitude 15.40 west, at 8:27 p. m. GMT."

The W. Hendrik was believed to have been attacked by one of a pair or more of German U-boats which already had torpedoed seven or eight vessels of a large British convoy on the main trans-Atlantic lanes 400 miles west of Ireland.

The latest ship attacked was much nearer Ireland, 225 miles west of Erris Head.

Berlin Report

Berlin, Dec. 3.—Virtual annihilation of a huge British convoy with a loss of possibly 185,000 tons of shipping and a violent air attack upon the English port of Bristol where the Blenheim bombers are made were announced by German authorities today.

Destruction of the convoy was the joint work of the German navy and air force, it was said. At least 16 vessels were torpedoed or destructively bombed, authorities declared. The surprise attack occurred some 400 miles west of the Irish coast.

Working in unison, the announcement said, several U-boats surprised a large convoy bound for England from the United States. One of the submersibles alone sank five steamers. Another bagged the 12,000 ton tanker Victor Ross and a third got the auxiliary cruiser Caledonia, a 17,000-ton ship once familiar on the north Atlantic run.

The day's total was perhaps the largest since the war started. German sources estimated that 140,000 tons were sunk almost in a single spot and the balance within a radius of a few hundred miles.

The Luftwaffe cooperated with U-boats in staging the attack, apparently sinking two freighters, but poor visibility prevented definite confirmation.

She presented, in costume, Miss Rosemary Place in a syncopated rhythm tap and a soft shoe acrobatic number, while Miss Ruth Markley gave a military tap, and Miss Betty Kelly contributed a novel waltz acrobatic number. Motor Police Head Warns Motorists Of Possible Dangers Now

SEASON OF UNSEEN HAZARDS AT HAND

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—Colonel Lynn G. Adams, commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, today invited attention to added dangers involved in motor vehicle operation by reason of increased periods of darkness and inclement weather conditions common to fall and winter months.

The annual upturn in highway accidents, which regularly occurs with the increased period of darkness during fall and winter months, is caused, in part at least, because motorists and pedestrians, accustomed to freedom of movement under daylight conditions during the early evenings throughout the summer, fail to appreciate the added danger involved by reason of darkness during this period of the day.

Motoring also becomes more dangerous during winter months by reason of the increase in precipitation, making highways wet and slippery. This frequently brings about an unexpected formation of ice on the paved road surface, most prevalent in mountainous areas of the state where ice commonly forms when temperatures are above freezing in the immediate vicinity. Because of this condition there is oftimes not sufficient opportunity to apply anti-skid material to the road surface and the danger of an accident, by skidding, thereby increases to a marked degree.

The police, therefore, cautioned motorists that, under these conditions, seemingly straight stretches of smooth, dry highway, normally safe in every respect for motor travel, become exceedingly dangerous by reason of ice having formed on the road surface in shady areas where water from adjacent embankments has seeped onto the roadway and formed into ice.

Strange Mendicants Not Allowed Here

Woman Donates Valuable Blood

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 — Mrs. Rose McMullin, "the lady with the golden blood," Monday prepared to attempt to save the life of Mrs. Hazel Farmer of Oklahoma City through a blood transfusion.

Mrs. McMullin already has been credited with saving the lives of 22 persons stricken with staphyloccus septicemia since 1935. Mrs. McMullin recovered from the rare blood disease.

Mrs. Farmer was brought to Chicago from Oklahoma City for the transfusions.

"Maintain Vigil; Keep Down Thefts"

Thieves Who Have Been Thwarted May Now Attempt Fowl Thefts

"It was very gratifying there were no fowl thefts during the Thanksgiving holidays. However, thieves who may have been thwarted by vigilant farmers and the day and night patrol of the motor police may attempt to steal turkeys, chickens, geese, ducks or cattle between now and Christmas," a state motor policeman stated today.

"Farmers should report to the state motor police, at phone No. 1000, any suspicious truck or auto parked in a lonely lane, public road or near a farm. A description of the vehicle should be taken because drivers usually use stolen license plates.

"If a man you do not know acts suspiciously notify the state motor police. The Lawrence county detail has a fleet of automobiles. Within a few minutes, day or night, a car with sufficient officers can reach any section of the county. No one should delay telephoning in time of theft or attempted theft," the officer advised.

Parking Violators Help City Fund

Although the police report of activities for November has not yet been formally presented to city council it was reported in the police bureau today that receipts amounted to $941.00, a large portion of which came from fines paid by autoists who failed to pay a nickel for parking or parked in excess of one hour and failed to insert a second nickel in the alot.

Mexico Planning New Naval Bases For Both Oceans

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 3—Pledged to aid the United States and sister American Republics in the "common cause" of the defense of the western hemisphere against foreign aggression, newly installed president Manuel Avila Camacho took up the problem of creating Mexican naval bases along the Pacific and the gulf of Mexico.

The first step towards aiding in the total co-operative defense of the continent through the creation of the defense bases was taken when the 43-year old stocky former minister of war announced plans to create a ministry of marine which would supervise the operation of merchant as well as naval vessels.

The new ministry, Camacho announced, would pave the way for Mexico to take on the responsibility of defending her own harbors and coast and allow for the creation of the naval bases. The new president's plans led to the conclusion in political circles that the United States would drop reported plans to seek bases in Mexico.

Live Stock Show Draws Big Crowd

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. — Crowds flocked in record breaking numbers Monday to the international amphitheater for the 41st international livestock exposition, which in its first two days drew an official attendance of 102,000. The eight day show ends Saturday.

Prominent everywhere throughout the huge amphitheater were the more than 1,500 4-H farm boys and girls, ranging in ages from 12 to 18 years. These youngsters are exhibiting some of the prize stock in the show, animals they have raised themselves. Among the youthful prize winners during the first two days was Evelyn Osay, 18-year-old junior college girl from Mt. Carroll, Ill., whose Hereford steer, Sargo, was adjudged champion in the junior feeding contest.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Florence A. Black estate to Edward C. Hoye, 2nd ward $2624.03.

December's grand jury got under way Monday with 25 cases before it for consideration. After polling the jury Judge W. Walter Braham appointed Robert Edward Gibson, a farmer of Slippery Rock township as foreman.

Twenty four jurors were summoned but six were excused. The six are Nicholas Calvanese, student, 7th ward, Edward Fink, retired, 2nd ward. Thomas D. Jones, farmer, New Wilmington. Brindley Owens, laborer, 1st ward. Chester A. Snyder, jeweler, 2nd ward. Thomas Trodden, Jr., laborer, 2nd ward.

Before the jury started its consideration of the bills of indictment, Judge Braham explained their duties. He explained that only 12 affirmative votes were necessary for a true bill, that the grand jury was not trying the case but merely deciding whether the evidence of the commonwealth was sufficient to warrant a trial by a petit jury.

Argument court was held Monday morning with a number of motions for new trials being argued. Among them was the damage suit of Clara Headland versus George Schuster et. al. The trial ended in a verdict for the plaintiff and the defendants now ask for a new trial.

Among the realty sales recorded in the office of the register and recorder Orville Potter, is one from E. L. and Kate Kurtz to the Son of Italy. The sale is the north half of a double house at the corner of South Mill and Home streets. The price is $5,000. The Son of Italy have owned the south half of the house for some time. They plan to remodel the entire house and make a club room of the entire first floor.

With the grand jury considering cases, the list of pleas to various charges will start. Twenty five cases are before the jury but it is a safe guess that eight or nine of the defendants will plead before next Monday morning when the term of criminal court starts.

After eight weeks' absence, County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers is back on the job. He returned Monday with 25 pounds less weight as the result of his illness. The commissioner had a three ply siege of it, starting with a cold, then pneumonia and an automobile accident.

AN APPEAL TO THE HEART OF AMERICA!

(Reprinted from New York Times of Nov. 24th, 1940)

GREECE!

DON'T LET IT BE "TOO LITTLE TOO LATE"

Don't — we beg you — let it be the same old story — "TOO LITTLE HELP — TOO LATE!" Don't let Greek heroism blind us to the fact that Greek civilians and children behind the lines need help — food, clothing, bomb shelters, medical supplies and equipment. Don't let Greek courage smokescreen the fact that Greek cities — from the immortal Parthenon to peasant hut, are being ruthlessly bombed, women and children blown to bits. Don't let the colossal problem of civilian care and relief become a millstone around the neck of fighting Greece.

This may be a turning point of the war! Don't let it be "TOO LITTLE HELP — TOO LATE." Do it now with dollars — the help that doesn't have to wait for factories or production lines. Greece can use tomorrow the help you send today.

For the people and land where democracy saw its birth — open your hearts!

Fellow Citizens:

The advertisement reproduced on this page appeared over the signature of Harold S. Vanderbilt. Honorary Chairman, Greek War Relief Association, Inc.

It tells the story so poignantly that nothing we might add could possibly elaborate upon the need of the Greek Civilian Population.

Our land and our people are practically the only ones to whom the Greeks can look for help.

And this is an appeal for help — your help.

Not for guns or planes or tanks, but for milk and food and clothing and shelter for the aged, the women, and little children in the Greek Civilian Population.

Don't let it be too little or too late

You, fellow citizens, who have thrilled to the courageous resistance of the Greeks against the totalitarian invaders, can do your part to uphold the courage of those behind the lines in this hour of need, that the flame of liberty, in the Providence of Almighty God, shall not be extinguished, but shall instead burn the more brightly in a darkening world.

Don't let it be too little or too late

Sincerely,
CHARLES B. MAYNE,

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

A low bow to the "cookie-pushers," the morning coat and gardenia battalions, the OK precis writers and the skilled practitioners of punctilio. They may bow from the hip and they may juggle tea cups but they work under bomb-laden skies and it isn't nice work even if you can get it.

The charge d'affaires, the attache of the legation, the consular officers stay on the job, with all hell belching up around them, struggle through night shifts with tangled visa problems, shepherd their countrymen home—outposts and emissaries of civilization in a world of Miltonic chaos; always the last to leave, and the least acclaimed in the line-up against barbarism.

Safe at home, we are only vaguely conscious of their existence and we are apt to think of them as panty-waisted dudes, getting a manicure every few minutes and using all their spare time keeping up their Harvard accent. Some people I know were jolted out of such an attitude by reports given to them by one who knew the facts—a friend returning from Europe—as to the faithfulness and courage of our foreign service officers.

I have made inquiries of people who had journeyed either east or west, and these gleanings have reminded me that sympathetic public understanding of our State Department, its organization, personnel and methods, is a matter of the utmost importance, and long overdue.

Naturally, the State Department is reserved and aloof. Under a man as trusted and respected as Cordell Hull, it is taken for granted. But it's bigger news today than it has ever been in our history, and I believe that some friendly and cooperative journalistic digging into the department's problems and techniques would be salutary and helpful, all around.

For instance, my more or less casual inquiry, superficial as it is, has convinced me that Britain is in hell's hole today because its foreign service followed policies sharply at variance with those of ours. Not that we should set ourselves as a mentor of Britain's foreign relations, this is merely to offer an instance of opposed policies which seem to be vital in their bearing on the hard issue of natural survival.

Our State Department draws no sharp line between permanent personnel at Washington and its foreign service officers. No man is allowed to remain abroad long enough to forget that he is an American and that he is working for Uncle Sam. Every so often, he is fed back into the national bloodstream, and, abroad again, he has an acute awareness of distinctly American interests and requirements.

Britain didn't do that. Foreign service officers, too long abroad, "lost their British accent." Through the critical years, from the day when Sir John Simon gave the green light to Japan for its aggression on the mainland, to today's Armageddon, Britain has been represented abroad by complacent "me, too" men, captives in Potiphar's house, eager to please, gifted in all the arts and subtleties of ingratiation—in everything, almost, but an ability to bat for old England.

We may cite Sir Neville Henderson's Apologia Germanica; Sir Leslie Craigie waltzing with the Japanese when he ought to have been swinging from the instep; Sir Eric Drummond's impeccable futility at the League of Nations and at Rome during the years of the Apocalyptic build-up, and Sir Samuel Hoare's generous contribution to what ails Britain. Like Ed Riegalls, in the Rose Bowl, they ran the ball in the wrong direction.

One doesn't need to go in for skywriting to show that this was due to a hardening of the arteries in both permanent personnel and foreign service. Men weren't fluxed back and forth from the home office to the field or vice versa. The metes and bounds of strictly British interests became blurred. Recurrent periods of stimulating re-education were lacking. Some of these functionaries, unwittingly of course, became the aides and allies of Britain's enemies.

But if our State Department is doing all right, why bring this up? Only because of one or two instances of slight symptoms of the British diplomatic ailment. We know of one American service officer who has been in the same spot for over twelve years, is sitting pretty and doesn't ever want to come home.

There is, in and around our State Department, some vague resentment of frequent shake-ups, and at least the nucleus of opinion which follow the British system. There are others who insist that all departmental representatives should never be far from the main current of American life and crucial interests. German diplomacy, whether you like it or not, has effectively followed the latter system. It works—all too well. British diplomacy followed the former. What about us? Why shouldn't all this be out in the open, subject to informed and cooperative public discussion?

Must Place Chains On Fire, Police Cars

One of the duties firemen and policemen must immediately perform when snow falls is to attach chains to the different pieces of equipment. It is likely this same method is carried out by all employes who operate city-owned motor vehicles. It is a "good insurance." When snow blankets a patch of ice, no one can foretell when a motor vehicle will take a crazy spell and skid.

A turtle, when it is active, can go for a day or two without breathing. It can live for months without breathing while it is hibernating.

Engineering Work To Be Paid For In '41

One of the requirements the city will be compelled to pay for in 1941, is an engineering service to determine the best method of treatment at the city sewage disposal plant. The state bureau of health, disposal plant department, has been after the city several years to make changes. The engineering service at a cost of $900, will tell the city how the best treatment can be arrived at.

State Will Sell Tax Anticipation Notes December 12

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3—Gov. Arthur H. James expressed the hope today that there would be no necessity to sell additional tax anticipation notes to bolster the state's finances, following the sale of a $25,000,000 series of one and one-half per cent tax notes Dec. 12.

The notes will be dated Dec. 1 and will be payable April 20, 1941, State Treasurer F. Clair Ross disclosed.

The governor conferred with State Budget Secretary Dr. Edward B. Logan and asserted that the state's future financially looked bright. Of the $175,000,000 authorized by the 1939 general assembly for relief, $20,000,000 remained.

Governor James declined to comment on the proposal to expand Capitol Park at an estimated cost of $3,000,000. He called attention again to the need for a new executive mansion.

"I'm not so sure that we can't make it a part of the general state authority," he said.

Thunderstorms are said to occut about once every ten years at the poles.

Splendid Cough Remedy Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll never be without it in your home, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

How One Woman Lost 26 lbs. of Fat

—4 inches off Hips
—3 inches off Bust
—7½ inches off Waist

Writes "I Feel Fine and Look 10 Years Younger"

How would you like to lose 10 to 20 pounds of fat in a few weeks? How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and abdomen and along with it feel better perhaps than you have in years?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh. Take half a teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of water first thing every morning. Cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. After 30 days weigh yourself again — now you'll know the safe, easy, sensible way to lose fat.

Start today girls to get a more charming, attractive slender figure. Kruschen comes in either the new pleasant, bubbling form or plain—a bottle usually lasts 4 weeks and is inexpensive.

Eckerd's Drug Stores and leading druggists all over America sell Kruschen Salts; if not supremely satisfied—money back.

Councilmen Consider Tax Rate For Next Year

City councilmen are making an effort to pare at least one-half mill from the present city tax levy of 11 mills and if such is possible the tax rate for the city of New Castle in 1941, would be 10½ mills.

Today Mayor Charles B. Mayne and councilmanic colleagues, Alexander, Davies, Dunlap and Fink were wading through a maze of figures for the purpose of submitting their required appropriations soon.

The city fathers have not yet completed the task and until that time does arrive, it will not be known for a certainty whether or not the tax rate can be cut. However, if such is possible the slash will occur.

The present, or 1940, tax levy, is 11 mills which was arranged as follows: For general revenue purposes 8½ mills; for sinking fund purposes two mills, and for public library purposes one-half mill.

Today it was stated by Mayor Charles B. Mayne that he will ask colleagues to purchase for the city police bureau, a fast, good car. One of the old cars will be given as part payment.

Mayor Mayne asserted that he prefers the city to buy one good car each year so there always will be in the department, a car capable of matching qualities of cars used by bandits, reckless operators and speeders.

He believes it better to purchase one good car each year than to wait until all the cars become obsolete then, buy three cars, because they will become antiquated at the same time.

Need Trucks

Councilman William H. Dunlap said that the department of streets and improvements should have several new dump trucks. He pointed out his department appropriation fund has yet $4,600.

He believes that if the council bought one truck now out of the 1940 appropriation it would leave several thousand dollars unexpended in this appropriation.

Councilman David O. Davies said that he wants a new and uptodate truck for the hauling of garbage. He asserted that the trucks now in service are obsolete for garbage purposes.

He said that a truck, such as he desires, will prove economical because it will result in a faster flow of garbage from a rear yard to the incinerator.

Fire Truck Ordered

The department of fire may require some equipment, such as hose. No hose was bought this year. However, a fire truck, fully equipped, is on order. It will be paid for out of 1940 appropriations, Davies declared.

The tentative budget may be presented soon. It must be displayed 30 days before final passage. Seldom does anyone, except city officials and newspaper men study the proposed appropriations.

Councilman Joseph D. Alexander, as director of property, and the sewage disposal plant, no doubt will need some new equipment for 1941.

Councilmen have stated informally they would like to have a cut in the tax millage and according to information in city hall circles this is the idea in mind when estimated appropriations are being compiled.

Stores To Employ Special "Watchers"

With Christmas holiday season here and shoplifters desirous of plying their trade, proprietors of the larger stores in this city have employed special "watchers"; in other words, men and women detectives to guard against shoplifting or pocketbook lifting from counters. Prosecutions will be brought in all cases, it has been stated.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WAMPUM

MOODY-HERBERT

A quiet wedding was solemnized Saturday night at the Presbyterian manse when Rev. J. G. Bingham performed the ceremony that joined Miss Twila Moody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moody of Aliquippa and Earle K. Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Herbert of this place in the bonds of matrimony.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of black velvet with accessories to match and wore a corsage of gardenias. Both were unattended.

A wedding supper was served at the groom's home. The couple left immediately after for a week end trip.

Mr. Herbert is a teacher in the Aliquippa school. The couple will reside in Wampum for the present.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Ladies Missionary Society will meet in the Presbyterian church Wednesday for an all day meeting. Hostesses for the dinner are Mesdames C. B. Morrow, J. C. F. Jackson and George Jackson. Mrs. L. J. Overlander is leader of the devotional meeting; Mrs. W. H. McCollough, topic on Foreign Missions; Mrs. Elmer Kanagy, National Missions topic.

WAMPUM PERSONALS

Mrs. C. F. Morrow spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. Carl Turner of New Castle.

Mrs. C. B. Reno left yesterday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she will remain for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Thomas McCune, Misses Anna Marie Stuper, Lela and Melvin Gilliland of Beaver Falls were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hennon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ketterer of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who have been visiting the C. S. Ferguson's and J. A. Ketterer families left yesterday for Pittsburgh where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Charles Dindinger.

New Type Truck To Aid Garbage Removal

D. O. Davies, director of safety, believes that when the city purchases a new truck for garbage purpose, which at this time seems likely, it should buy one, which is up-to-date. The present truck bodies are high. The sort of truck he has in mind will have a body sufficiently low that speed putting garbage aboard can be gained. He claims the present fleet of trucks is outmoded.

Will Be Glad To Get Good, Fast Car

City police who time and again are called upon to chase bandits and speeders feel pleased with the indication that the department will purchase next a fast car, one which can answer any need to which it may be put. The cars now in operation have "served their time," in good and bad weather, or good and bad roads, and naturally there comes a time in the life of even an auto when it becomes aged.

Motor Club Head Blasts Horn Maniacs

Auto Horn Should Be Only Used To Warn Of Danger, Curran States

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—Motor maniacs who insist on "blatant, sleep-destroying, nerve-shattering horn blowing" should be eliminated from the highways, says the Keystone Automobile club.

"There is only one legitimate use for an automobile horn," asserted Safety Director Edward P. Curran, "and that is to warn of sudden danger arising in spite of careful driving. There never was and never will be an excuse for the manical actions of a minority of motorists who make nights hideous with hornblasts.

"Aside from the annoyance caused to persons in normal health," continued Curran, "unnecessary hornblowing is an actual detriment to the recovery of persons who are ill or injured in homes or hospitals. The old and persons suffering from nervous disorders are particularly affected by the noise-making pests.

"Good driving manners call for consideration of others. Safe driving practices demand the use of brakes instead of horns at street and highway intersections. Use of horns to summon late-departing guests from social functions is intolerable," he concluded.

Ministers Hear Republic Head

Superintendent Of George Junior Republic Tells Of Life In Institution

Life at the George Junior Republic near Grove City was outlined to members of the New Castle Ministerial Association at their meeting Monday in the First Presbyterian church when Arthur T. Prasse, superintendent of the Republic, was the speaker.

Mr. Prasse spoke in a general way of the work there, the property on a 210 acre farm and told how the republic is run by the 53 boys at the present time.

Dr. G. S. Bennett presided over the first half of the meeting with Rev. P. C. Pearson conducting the latter part. Devotions were led by Rev. Milton E. Shearer, after which Rev. Pearson reported for the library committee, Rev. W. A. Tornton spoke on behalf of British war relief and Rev. Pearson spoke on Greek war relief. By action of the association, both projects were endorsed.

New ministers introduced were Rabbi Gilbert A. Elefant of Tifereth Israel Synagogue by Rabbi Norman Diamond, and Rev. J. F. Hay, retired minister of the Christian denomination introduced by Dr. Bennett.

Dr. Grant Fisher, chairman of the program committee, presented Dr. W. L. Wishart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Sharon, and chairman of the board of directors of George Junior Republic who spoke in a general way of the boy criminal problem and then introduced Mr. Prasse.

An invitation was extended to the ministers to visit the home at any time, and a vote of thanks was given both Dr. Wishart, and Mr. Prasse for their addresses. Dr. Norris A. White conducted the closing devotions.

During the meeting, the Christian Endeavor plan was presented by Rev. Norman P. Spear and on motion of the association, the preaident is to appoint a representative to meet with the Christian Endeavor.

On Monday, December 6, Rev. P. C. Pearson will be the speaker at the association meeting when he will report on the general convention of the Episcopal church which was held recently.

WEARS LATEST STYLE OF COAT

Some days ago a police bureau item said the "long blue coat" is becoming extinct. Patrolman John Golis disputes the statement. Attiring himself in one of the latest type long blue coats with brass buttons he stood inspection today and if ever there were a beau brummel it was John. In fact, no one could gaze at his neatly attired frame without saying: "Now there goes one of the 'Finest'."

HOW TO GET A $100 LOAN IN 24 HOURS

No endorsers or guarantors needed—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Monthly payments to fit your income—Quick, friendly service

WOULD you like to get a cash loan without having to ask friends or relatives for a favor? At Household Finance you can borrow $20 to $300—without endorsers or guarantors—if you can make small monthly payments on your loan. We require no stocks or bonds, no wage or salary assignment. You borrow on your own signature; your friends are not asked to sign the papers with you.

Choose your own payment plan

See, in the table below, how you may repay your loan in convenient monthly installments which fit your own income. You may repay in small installments spread over 18 months. Or you may repay sooner to reduce the charges.

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full in 12 months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for 18 months will also repay a $100 loan.

Same rate to everyone

Installments in the table cover everything. They include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Household has only this one rate—the same for everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

No one else need know

When you borrow at Household, there is no need to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) So that your loan may remain your private affair, we do not ask friends or relatives about your credit. If you should be faced with sickness or unemployment while paying on a loan, Household will show you every consideration. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

If a loan will help you, you are urged to look at the table again. Then phone or visit us for further information. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TALL GIRLS

Over a period of some weeks in these columns, I have discussed various phases of the subject of stature and how to improve it. In my approach to the subject, I adopted the attitude that virtually everybody wants to be tall. Letters I have received show me I was wrong. Apparently many tall girls, or at least some of them, wish they were petit, rather than statuesque.

One letter came from a young girl of 19 who is six feet tall, which fact she says is the ordeal of her life. She is not only taller than her girl friends, but taller than most of the boys she knows. Of course, this makes her feel very conspicuous, and she thinks that boys shorter than she, won't ask her to go out because they don't like to be seen out with a girl who towers over them.

A mother wrote me that her daughter, who is a shade over six feet, has developed very bad posture trying to mask her height. Her shoulders are rounded, her head thrust worward, and she too is shy of boys of average height.

I certainly don't think six feet, or a few inches over, for that matter, is too tall for a girl to be and I am sure I speak for many men. Artists declare that shortness is the commonest defect in women's figures. In drawing them, as you will note on the covers and illustrations in the magazines, they always elongate them and give them much longer legs than the average. Tall models are chosen to display clothes usually because the tall woman looks better in her clothes than the short ones. Have you noticed that high heels never go out of fashion? That's because they add a couple of inches to the girl's height and make her look more graceful. One New York show producer won't have a girl in his employ who is under six feet. The reason, of course, is that he has found persons like to see tall girls.

These are the things I like to tell girls who worry about their height. A great many of them need to be told to stop scrunching down. God gave them stature, and they should use it to the best advantage.

One girl who came from near my home town was about six feet, and very conscious of it. Everytime I saw her, I told her to straighten her shoulders up and walk right. The advice didn't have much effect until at twenty. She went down to the city and got a job there. There she became convinced that her height was really an asset. She went to a dancing school, and learned proper carriage—the right way to walk. When she came home for a visit after a year or so, she was the most gorgeous-looking young woman the town had ever seen. All the tall girls straightened up in emulation.

The best effect was that her whole mental attitude had changed too. Standing, and looking the world in the eye instead of worrying because she was conspicuous, had given her a new outlook. She came home to tell the folks of the wonderful man she was going to marry. I'm pretty sure that if she hadn't perked up and taken hold of herself, she never would have got such a desirable husband.

The point is that if you have an overly-tall child, you can do a great deal to condition them mentally so that this stature becomes an asset to them.

EINSTEIN ADMIRER MAKES BRONZE STATUE

(International News Service)

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 3.—After 700 night' labor and 3,000 miles of travel, a young Greek immigrant was repaid recently for his efforts.

Nick Mars, a constant admirer of Dr. Albert Einstein, devoted his spare time in carving a likeness of the doctor in bronze.

After two years toil, the plaque was accepted by Purdue university, Mars' alma mater and hung in the university's union building, where he had worked part-time to meet his college expenses while attending the school.

Report Is Made On Recent Fund For Local Triplets On Second Birthday

Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive director of the Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross, today reported that the recent fund raising effort for the Johnson triplets, of South New Castle Borough, proved successful.

The drive was aided by The News. Contributions were forwarded to Miss Bodenstein who purchased and delivered the clothing to the needy children.

Cash collections amounted to $18.75 Miss Bodenstein bought three snow suits and six coveralls all for $16.75. This was augmented by articles which the Chapter gave out of the generous donation made them by the Needle Work Guild, Miss Bodenstein reports.

In addition, The News received several dresses and a cap which have also been turned over to the Johnsons by Miss Bodenstein.

The News, Miss Bodenstein and the Johnson family thank all those who responded to this worthy cause.

The Christmas rations will be in effect for one week, beginning Dec. 16, the announcement stated.

In addition, it was intimated officially that the bacon ration may soon be reduced to the equivalent of 12 ounces per person every four weeks, instead of 12 ounces every three weeks as at present.

GRANDMA'S HAVING A field day

She's been cooking everything she can lay her hands on since we got our new

GAS RANGE

"Nobody suspected Grandma had it in her! But, one look at our new gas range and all her cooking lore of the past 60 years just seemed to well up: 'Where's your pantry?' she barked—and proceeded to 'lay to' with most of what there was in the house. The food piled up, but Grandma never paused. She was having a real cooking 'field day' and believe me it opened our eyes as to what our new gas range could do."

You, too, will find new thrills, new delights, new pleasures in cooking on a modern gas range, whether you are a new bride or a grandma. The new gas ranges have every convenience feature you could possibly want—automatic lighting of top burner, oven and broiler; giant burners for speed cooking; new type non-clog burners that are easy to clean and keep clean; automatic oven time control (available on all models); fast preheating ovens, insulated to save fuel, and with an automatic temperature regulator; smokeless, easy-to-use broiler; click simmer burners for modern waterless cooking—and a host of other time and fuel saving features.

See the new C/P Gas Ranges now—at your dealer's or your gas company.

C/P stands for Certified Performance in gas ranges. It is a seal and symbol of quality not any one range. Twenty-six manufacturers of gas ranges make C P models containing the 22 super-performance features as specified by the American Gas Association. The C P seal enables you to "know before you buy" that there is no finer range on the market.

MODERN FLAME COOKING —with instant visible heat—efficient, accurately controllable—is preferred by master chefs and good cooks everywhere. Gives any "shade" of heat you need—and is the truly successful way to broil.

U. S. EXPERIMENTS ON NEW TYPE PLANE WEAPON

Exploding Shell Aim Of Experts

Would Make Quick Work Of Attacking Planes In Air Battles

SEEK TO LOAD FOUR POUND PROJECTILES

By GRIFFING BANCROFT, Jr.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The United States Army Air Corps is experimenting with four-pound cannon projectiles to see if they can be packed with high explosives, it was learned today.

Should these experiments prove successful, American cannon-bearing planes will be converted into formidable instruments of death, capable of blasting an enemy air ship out of the sky with a single hit.

The tests follow acceptance by the Army of the Beil aircraft Company's 400 mile-an-hour "Airacobra" a single seater fighting plane which mounts a 37 millimeter cannon in its nose.

This plane as it now stands is capable of firing, at the rate of 30 a minute, projectiles which are one and a half inches in diameter and which weigh four pounds.

Shells Of Different Type

These projectiles, however, do not explode, differentiated from shells, which are bullets loaded with explosives set to burst when the target is hit.

Never in the history of air warfare have planes been equipped with shell firing guns it was said. Prior to the present war, fighting aircraft could not mount larger guns than .50 calibre machine guns which fire projectiles less than one third the size of the 37 MM. cannon.

Ordinance experts so far have been unable to convert four pound 37 MM. projectiles into shells by packing them with explosives as they have proved to be too small to carry an effective load. Explosives are now confined to only the largest guns and howitzers.

Would End Dog Fights

The current experiments are attempts at loading the four pound projectiles with TNT or some other high explosive. Until this is done, planes must contine to confine their destructive capacity to unloaded missiles. With the ever increasing improvements in the armament of enemy planes and such protective devices as the self sealing gasoline tank, many hits are now needed before an enemy ship can be downed unless a lucky projectile pierces a particularly vulnerable spot or hits the pilot.

On the other hand, should planes be capable of firing explosive-laden shells the prolonged air "dog fights" will be ended. One hit with such a shell, even though it were administered from several miles away would serve to blast an enemy ship into pieces.

Coach Bridenbaugh Will Be Speaker

Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh of New Castle High has been invited to be an after-dinner speaker at the Youngstown East High grid banquet in Youngstown on Wednesday night, and as a speaker at the Hubbard High banquet on Thursday night.

"Bridy" will probably tell the young high school boys some of the inner workings of the "Red Hurricane". Bridenbaugh has coached football and basketball here for 18 years and has a most enviable record, turning out numerous football and basketball championship teams but his fame as an orator is only beginning.

L. J. Lewis, head of the entertainment committee, announced that plans are being completed for the Exchange Club Christmas party to be held on Monday, December 9. William Milsom, James DeLawrence and Sam Taylor complete the committee.

BILLS ORDERED PAID

Council convened Monday in city hall and ordered bills paid as follows: Forney Machine & Welding company, $1.00; McBride & Fulkerson, anti-freeze, $45.00; Pittsburgh Auto Equipment company, supplies, $30.86; Allegheny Equipment company, supplies, $29.68; Cambria Slag company, slag, $1,258.11; Eugene Dietzgen company, paper, $7.51; J. Phalanx Club Plans Christmas Banquet

Plans for a Christmas banquet were discussed at the meeting of the Phi Delta Phalanx club, at its meeting in the Y. M. C. A. last evening, and committees were named to make arrangements for the event. Bowling was enjoyed by the members after the business meeting.

Primus Arthur Dennis announces that the membership deadlock was broken last evening when the team captained by Curtis Fritz forged ahead. This contest will be concluded next Monday, the penalty for the losers being to buy pins for the winning side. Charles Anderson is captain of the other team.

Factor Girls To Have Fine Team

The Factor girls basketball team will have its first session of the year at the Polish Falcon hall at 7:30 o'clock on Wednesday night. Manager Joe Factor will get his first glimpse of the material that he will have for the 1940-41 season.

The Factors broke a tournament record at East Liverpool last year playing four games in 18 hours, losing out in the last minute and half of play. The team will be much stronger this year. Many of the girls are former Union and Shenango High stars.

The following girls will report this year—Kate Smith, ex-Union high star, Helen Uram, Helen Kraft, Jean Cerutti, Jerry Gall, Jenny Augustine, Martha Allen, Mildred Dewberry, Ann Hensley. The new girls reporting this year are—Virginia Germanski, of Mt. Jackson High, and Ann Hordig and Louise Trimble of Shenango High. The team will be coached by Marion "Muzzy" Sniezek.

Manager Factor has games booked with the following first class teams—Goldensons of Pittsburgh, Salem, Ohio, New Kensington, Warren Packards, and the Stella Walsh team of Cleveland, Ohio.

Harvey Harman, the Rutgers coach, tells about a 220-pound linehuddle what to do on the next play. "Okay," he said, "remind me when we get up in the line" . . . Cornell's Carl Snavely wiped out all early-season criticism by praising Dartmouth and Penn after they had wrecked his hopes for an undefeated year

Junior Church Loop Planned

There will be a meeting at the 'Y' Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock of all managers of the various teams that will make up the Junior Church basketball league this year.

The following churches should have representatives at the meeting: Third U. P., First U. P., First Presbyterians, St. Marys, First Christians, First Methodist, Wesley Methodist, and Epworth.

League details will be given out at the meeting. All managers of the junior teams must be over 21, and have a letter of authorization from the church he is representing.

Minnesota Gets Coveted Trophy As Top Eleven

Minnesota Ranked As Leading College Team In Country, Michigan Ranked Second

STANFORD GETS THIRD RANKING

(International News Service)

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 3—Regardless of the outcome of the various New Year's Day football bowl contests, the University of Minnesota rated the national collegiate football championship, according to the Dickinson rating system, compiled today by Professor Frank C. Dickinson of the University of Illinois.

Minnesota, undefeated Western conference champion, not only was awarded the national title, but given permanent possession of the Rockne Memorial Trophy, because the Gophers won it three years—1934, 1936 and 1940. Professor Dickinson announced today that he is discontinuing his football rating and that Minnesota would have won permanent possession of the trophy had the Gophers ranked no higher than seventh this year, because they had the best 10-year record, 1931-1940.

Michigan Ranked Second

Michigan, defeated only by Minnesota was ranked second. Stanford, Tennessee and Texas A. & M. followed in order. Pennsylvania was the only eastern team on the list, while the Big Ten and the Southwest Conference each had three. Southern Methodist, however, must defeat Rice on December 7 or surrender eleventh place in the ratings to Coston College.

The Rockne Memorial Trophy was sponsored by the Four Horsemen who comprised the famous Notre Dame backfield of 1924—James H. Crowley, Elmer F. Layden, Harry A. Stuhldreher and Donald C. Miller.

Michigan won the trophy in 1932 and 1933 and Southern California won first place in 1931 and 1939, leaving Michigan, Southern California and Minnesota each with two legs on the trophy at the start of the 1940 season.

In announcing his retirement from rating football teams, Professor Dickinson invited high school and college conferences to continue use of his system.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Bits of most everything:....This corner salutes New Castle's "Bill" Chip. In picking the stars of the recent Army-Navy spectacle, you can't help but put the finger on the son of the former middleweight king pin. Chip, who has been nicknamed "Moose" by his Annapolis buddies, gave a performance that wasn't even overshadowed by the show put on by "Bill' Busik.

Navy's first touchdown came as a result of quick thinking by signal barking Chip. The localite must have spotted a line weakness because he called for a dangerous line buck which netted a first and ten and put the Middies in scoring position. In addition to commanding the team like a pro, Chip blocked superbly and even caught a pass on Army's 14, early in the first stanza.

While Chip gets little credit from the outside world, those Navy players won't hesitate to tell anyone that Chip is one of the main cogs. The localite's deadly blocking may have escaped the eyes of money writers and fans. But, at Annapolis the local athlete is ranked as one of the best blockers to ever flaunt the Navy colors, we are told.

The past grid season has been a bad one for records. Only a few weeks back, three winning streaks were scuttled. Georgetown, winner of 23 in a row, tumbled before Boston college; Cornell marched over 18 elevens only to fall before a mediocre Dartmouth aggregation, and Texas A. & M. saw its 19-game streak smeared by Texas.

Hugh Mulcahy, the Phillies' star pitcher, escaped the auction block because he is unmarried and is liable to be drafted into the army. He was slated to go with Kirby Higbe. Anyway you look at it, it was a tough blow for Mulcahy.... Minneapolis, a usual 60 to 65 home game winner, copped but 43 tiffs on home soil. The Millers grabbed the same number on the road.

Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball, celebrates his 78th birthday on December 23. Judge Landis passed his 71st milestone on November 25...Installation of the "magic eye" electric ball and strike indicator will probably be tried out in the national semi-pro ranks next season. If the contrivance proves O. K., the majors may adopt it.

Grid report: During the pigskin panorama, we called the turn on 308 out of 416 games, exclusive of 16 ties, for a better than 74 per cent average.

Mrs. Johnny Burns, who succeeded her late husband as head of the Cambria A. C. holds a one-third interest in the "Little College of Hard Knock." A promoter and money man complete the trio. Also, the Cambria expects to boom again when nearby Cramp's shipyard reopens."

Marsh Robnett and John Kimbrough

Texas A. & M.'s All-American stars, Marsh Robnett, guard, and John Kimbrough, fullback, talk over their chances in the bowl games at College Station, Tex., after completing their season. It was a warm day and Robnett was putting in a bit of track work, strengthening his leg muscles.

Church League Games Monday

St. Vitus, First Presbyterians And Mahoning Win League Tilts

Three games were played last night in the New Castle Church basketball league at the "Y" floor.

The Mahoning team in the first game defeated the First Methodist team 40 to 27 with Denny and Wilson the scoring stars of the battle.

In the second game the First Presbyterians paced by Tommy McCormick and Tintsman defeated the Central Presbyterians 37 to 25. Best for the losers was Robinson.

The third and final game found the St. Vitus team with a new lineup this year, defeating the First Baptist team 36 to 25. Grommes paced the Baptists with Zingaro and Bullano the St. Vitus stars.

Report Toll Of Eight Hunters On First Day Of Deer Hunting Season

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3—An estimated 250,000 Pennsylvania hunters stalked the forests trails for the second day of the two-weeks deer hunting season today despite the reported deaths of eight hunters and an undetermined number of injuries.

The first fatality of the year occurred two hours after the 1940 season opened when a stray bullet instantly killed Thomas J. Long, 56, DuBois, while he was hunting in Clearfield county, north of his home.

Shot Near Oil City

Stalking game in the midst of a driving snow storm resulted in the death of Jack Brandon, 42, of Franklin. He was accidentally shot and killed while hunting about 10 miles from Oil City in Venango county.

Stanley Ford, of Turtle Point, McKean county, was struck by a bullet from a companion's gun while hunting in his native county approximately eight miles from the New York state line.

And this morning, shortly after day break, authorities in Union county prepared to remove the body of a youth identified as Leroy Keller, of Stony Creek, Berks county, whose body was discovered yesterday afternoon lying deep in the Union county hills, near Mifflintown.

Unable to remove the body before dark yesterday because of the rough terrain, county officials ordered a guard to stand watch throughout the night.

Wilbur Lukens, Hartleton, Union county, waived a hearing and posted $1,000 bail in connection with the shooting of Keller.

Four Other Deaths

Four other accidental deaths were reported. H. G. Beatty, Meadville, died of a heart attack while helping to push a stalled automobile filled with hunters from a snow drift near Warren, and Elder Heller, 32, of Seneca Run, Jefferson county, died of a heart attack while dressing a deer he had shot.

Thomas H. Murray, 60, of Montrose, chairman of the Western Susquehanna county draft board, also died of a stroke as he prepared to leave on a hunting trip. Forest Heidelbaught, 58, Quarryville, died as a result of an automobile accident while on a hunting trip.

Among those injured were:

James Orchard, 18, Honesdale, Wayne county; Charles Wargo, 17, of Johnstown and Jerry Lear Jr., of Robinson, Indiana county; Wilmer Shaw, 30, Everett, Bedford county; Carl R. Casselbury, 27, Elmira, N. Y., Floyd Holben, Homer City, Indiana county, and Walter Caldwell, 23, of Greencastle, Franklin county.

But not all hunters were unfortunate yesterday as the three Plestrak brothers can testify. Emil and Louis, both of Warrior Run, Luzerne county, and Edward, of Danville, Columbia county, each bagged a doe while hunting in Luzerne county yesterday.

Similar luck was experienced by Ernest Caldwell, 19, of Coudersport, Potter county, who killed an eight point buck inside the borough limits less than 20 minutes after the season began yesterday.

Trade Winds Are Strong In South

Pittsburgh Pirates Reported To Have Obtained Stu Martin From Cardinals

BASEBALL MOGULS HOT AFTER TRADES

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 3—Stu Martin, the St. Louis Cardinal infielder, will be with the Pittsburgh Pirates next season and Gabby Hartnett, former manager and catcher of the Chicago Cubs, will be with the New York Giants as player and coach, according to first announcements today out of the annual minor league basketball meeting, which starts tomorrow.

Scarcely had these transfers been revealed when rumors began to bob up on every hand concerning a half dozen or more players with various clubs, but activity in the ivory trading business immediately slacked off for the time being, presaging the possibility of several trades in the next few days.

Browns Needs Pitchers

In nearly every room of the baseball headquarters negotiations were under way. The St. Louis Browns admittedly were in the market for a couple of pitchers with a view to making a bid for the American League first division; President Larry MacPhail held court in his suite in quest of whatever he needs to clinch a national league pennant for the Brooklyn Dodgers; in still another wing of the hotel managers from the Georgia hinterlands offered a well-trained bird-dog in exchange for a hard-hitting outfielder.

By tomorrow night or the next day activity is expected to be brisk as a bargain basement sale, with deal after deal pending if the people mixed up in them can get together.

The transfer of Martin from the Cards to the Pirates was not regarded as particularly significant, inasmuch as Martin is by profession a utility infielder who has his ups and downs. The transfer of Hartnett out of the ranks of the unemployed and into the giant organization may be significant. Briefly, Manager Bill Terry has wanted to get into the Giants' front office for a long time and this way may be his chance.

Hartnett may wind up managing the Giants, although his status for the present is catcher-coach.

Eventually signed with Detroit.... The Army mule first appeared on the gridiron in Philadelphia at a service clash. Navy had sprung a surprise by showing up with a goat as mascot one year before the Cadets adopted a Missouri minion.

Bill Chip Lauded For Navy Victory

Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, director of the Jameson Memorial hospital has returned from Philadelphia where he saw the Army-Navy football game on Saturday afternoon. He also visited his son William Bissell, who is a cadet in the U. S. Military Academy, and who attended the game with the corps.

Dr. Bissell is enthusiastic over the work of Bill Chip, son of George Chip of New Castle, who is the quarterback of the Navy team. Dr. Bissell's enthusiasm is shared by Philadelphia sport writers who give Chip credit for setting up both of the Navy touchdowns. One writer dubbed him "The Cutie" for his foxy tactics in crossing up the Army team and setting up the Navy touchdowns.

Chip played the first quarter and engineered a series of plays which resulted in Navy's first touchdown. He was out of the game the second period and went back in, in the third when again he engineered a touchdown for the Navy team.

Chip has two more seasons to play with the Navy and with his first playing season back of him he should go places next year.

Do Not Use Fire Hazards On Tree

This is the time of year when parents, thinking only of making offspring happy, purchase material for Christmas trees. Cotton is highly inflammable. Bare electric wires should not be used. In other words, any material of which one has a doubt should not be purchased else grief may pervade a happy home.

City Contributes To Decorative Fund

City councilmen, as representatives of all of the people of the city, have appropriated from general revenue $75 for the Christmas season decorative fund. Fifty dollars has been allotted for uptown and $25 for Long avenue Christmas lights, it was reported in city hall.

Let's forget about the left and right in politics. Unless we all get right, we'll all be left.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESKEALL

In spite of all the talk done by the AAA Club, city and state police and those interested in seeing safety on the streets and highways . . . people who drive cars within our fair community seems to insist on driving without the aid of chains . . . these folks were stuck all along the hills last night when they tried to go home . . . those with chains went right along but were in danger of an accident with those cars that were not equipped with chains . . . so folks, don't try to be brave and think it's smart to brag that you never use chains, you are not brave . . . you are just a damn fool who doesn't know anything . . . in some circles you are known to be an ignoramus . . . so wise up, drive safely.

Some of the boys around town are coming back from a day or two in the big woods . . . evidently they must of lost something because they said they were "hunting" . . . some have nothing but cold feet to show their friends, while others have on display a doe or buck deer. What they will do with all this meat is a problem that only time can answer . . . but they all had fun . . . even if some of the boys never got out of the hunting lodge.

* * *

Maybe the ice will be strong enough to go skating tonight . . . we use two pair of skates . . . and considering the possibility of adding a big feather pillow . . . but it's fun and reminds us of the fellow who hit himself on the head with a hammer, when asked why he did that so often, he replied, it feels so good when I stop.

* * *

The Johnson triplets will not be as cold in the future as they were in the past . . . snow suits, dresses, suits, and other clothing has been sent then through your good help . . . about 18 dollars was raised . . . some sent in clothing that was very well accepted . . . we thank you all folks . . . The United States is still tops.

* * *

How are you coming with that Christmas list . . . stuck with a few items . . . why not read this page . . . maybe you will get a good idea? And then take a walk around to the various stores . . . see their Christmas displays . . . we talked with a woman yesterday . . . she had been in the big city with the idea to shop . . . she didn't buy a thing . . . she came back to New Castle and bought . . . and it was more economical.

Stock Market Drifting Lower

Changes Are Extremely Small—Steels Are Reported Soft

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The stock market drifted irregularly lower in continued sluggish trading today. Changes were extremely small on both sides of the market. The tone was soft at the opening, but some support developed in the second hour. Losses were cut to minor proportions and several representative issues climbed above last night's closing levels.

Steels were soft throughout the forenoon, with Bethlehem and U. S. Steel each off almost a point before meeting support. Crucible and Youngstown Sheet & Tube gave up about a half-point.

DuPont and Coca Cola were among the few stocks to lose a point. Allied Chemical on an independent move gained almost as much.

Aircraft manufacturing issues, which reacted yesterday, displayed a firm tone in early dealings. Amusements continued their slow rise under the lead of Loew's.

Frank Krause Is Accidently Shot

Fatal Accident Occurs Monday Afternoon While Deer Hunting Near Kittanning

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 3.—Frank Krause, aged 38 years, of Fifth street, prominent Ellwood City resident, was instantly killed on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when he was accidently shot while hunting deer at Brookfield, Pa., in the Kittanning section.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Desport Krause; an infant daughter, Peggy Ann; five sisters, Mrs. Anna Baden and Mrs. George Ryan, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Mary Barefoot, of Swissvale; Vera, of Turtle Creek; and Mrs. Josephine Moore, of this city; four brothers, Theodore, William, Steven and Phillip, all of Pittsburgh; and his mother, Mrs. Frances Krause, of this city.
